Sec. 2. All entrances from side walks into cellars shall be closed by trap doors sufficiently strong to serve as part of such side walks, and shall be on a level with the same, excepting in cases where such doors shall not extend further than to a point four and a half feet from the outside of the curbing: Provided that all such entrances not enclosed by trap doors as aforesaid, shall be closed by other good and sufficient doors, or railing.

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the owner or owners of all lots within the Borough, in front or along the side of which pavements or sidewalks have been constructed, to keep the same in good repair; and if any such owner or owners shall neglect or refuse for five days after having received such notice from the street commissioner to repair such pavement or sidewalk, it shall be the duty of the street commissioner to repair the same forthwith, and return a bill of expenses with twenty per cent. added, to the clerk of the council, to be collected in the same manner as provided in section four of this ordinance: Provided that no such repairs shall be considered sufficient unless approved by the street and alley committee.

STATE LEGISLATURE.

The Senate in Tuesday's session passed the following bills finally: An amendment to the act providing for the coal, iron and lumber interests of the state; making the drunkenness of election officers while in the performance of their duties a misdemeanor; increasing the clerical force in the office of the state treasurer.

A message was received from the governor nominating a number of notaries public, commissioners of deeds, and Edgar Hummel, sheriff of Dauphin county, in place of Hon. Isaac Mumma, deceased.

In the House the banking bill entitled "An Act regulating the affairs of corporations, associations, institutions, partnerships, person or persons now doing and that may hereafter do a banking business within this commonwealth and for the appointment of a bank examiner," came up on third reading, and a lively discussion followed. The vote was on final passage 90 yeas to 77 nays, and not having a constitutional majority the bill fell. This vote was reconsidered in the afternoon session and further action postponed.

Bills were passed finally as follows: Authorizing the appointment of assistant clerks of' orphans courts in counties containing over 150,000 inhabitants; relating to the mode of inheriting from, through or by a child or children adopted according to law, being a supplement to the act relating to certain duties of husband and wife and parents and children; for the establishment of a uniform standard of time in the state.

EX-GOVERNOR CURTIN, whose official career came to an end on the 4th of March, when congress adjourned, leaves the political stage with the unbiased esteem and friendliest feelings of his constituents and the following account from the Philadelphia Times again displays his broad and liberal views, prompted by a large and kindly heart: When the Governor was Minister to St. Petersburg he was presented with a handsome and valuable pair of sleeve buttons by the Czar of Russia. Not long since one of the buttons was lost. One of the Governor's most intimate friends in the House was General Oates of Alabama, a dashing Conderate officer who followed Lee in his campaign through Pennslyvania and carries an armless sleeve as an evidence of his presenc at Gettysburg. Just before Congress adjourned the Governor gracefully placed the button in the shirt cuff and said to General Oates that he desired to leave with him a memento that as on Pennsylvania soil, perhaps by a Pennsylvania gun in the hands of a Pennsylvania soldier, he lost his arm, he wanted to present him with the button as an evidence that he, the Executive of the state at the time of the struggle had forgotten the past and would bind the wounds of his foes with ribbons of love and good fellowship.

GEORGE JONES, the proprietor of the New York Times who lately arrived in New York from California in an interview, in which conversation led to the presidental campaign of 1888, stated that his paper will not support Blaine for president. He says that the Times opposed Mr. Blaine in 1884 and will opposse him again if he is nominated next year. Who the republicans will nominate I cannot tell. Mr. Blaine may get the nomation, but he will never be elected. If I were allowed to place a man in nomination for the presidency I would name Judge Walter Q. Gresham, of Indiana. Cleveland will be nominated by the democrats for re-lection. He is the best man in the party.

CONGRESSMAN SCOTT is said by the Franklin Citizen-Press to have made up his mind to resign his seat in Congress when it meets, the reason being that he cannot attend to his duties there and his business also; but that Republican journal suspects that a more cogent reason is his disaffection towards the administration for not properly appreciating him, as he desired a seat in the Cabinet as Secretary of the Navy and wanted Whitney sent to the Treasury to make room for him.

THE Philadelphia Times says Pennsylvania is in great need of a new Capitol building. The present crazy-quilt patchwork structure is not only inadequate to the needs of the government, but it is a disgrace to a State that is a great Empire within itself. It would be better for the State if the capitol could be removed to Philabelphia, but the country doesn't take kindly to such a change, and when the rural districts get on their ear they don't get left in their effort to boss such jobs.

The location of the Capitol at Harrisburg may be accepted as permanent, and its central position, as well as its wonderful industrial growth, justify the distinction it enjoys as the custodian of the State authorities. There is therefore, no reason, to higgle over the erection of a new Capitol at Harrisburg, and it should be made in every way worthy of the grandest Commonwealth of the Union.

The people have just pride in their great State, and they will be glad to see a Capitol building that reflects their own might and progress. Let the bill for the new Capitol be passed. Pennsylvania needs it, and her people want it. Being right, go ahead!

The Baltimore and Ohio Deal.

NEW YORK, March 15.—It is believed on Wall street that the control of the Baltimore and Ohio has passed into the hands of the syndicate. A story is current, and is reported by parties who are generally accepted as good authority, that Jay Gould has acquired a quarter interest in the syndicate, and has paid $1,400,000 in cash on the agreement. Russell Sage is also named as a member of the syndicate. According to reports the western Union takes the Baltimore and Ohio telegraph line, Dinsmore takes the express business for the Adams express company, and the Pennsylvania railroad company takes the the road. The details are said to have been arranged last night.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our regular correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14, 1887.

The question of an extra session of the Fiftieth Congress to begin in October and run into the regular session, is now a topic of speculation here. Officers of the Executive Department hope such a calamity will be averted, as the President is reported as saying that he would not call Congress together unless it became necessary, in order to avoid a financial depression. Officers of the Departments have a much happier life when Congress is away, for with it always comes a horde of office hunters which lingers as long as the session lasts.

But the business of this great country has grown too vast to be carried on by the methods which served well enough half a century ago. Not one-tenth of the work that Congress ought to do ever gets done at all, and one of the chief reasons for this is the waste of time from March to January, for although Congress meets on the first Monday in December, it never gets down to business before the holidays.

The cure for this is in the President's hands. The Fiftieth Congress began its official existence on the 4th of this month and its members are now on pay. He has only to exercise his prerogative of convening Congress and pointing out the work which most needs its attention. If he neglects to do this, he will be largely responsible for the failure of necessary legislation.

The Democratic party promises to be weakened in the next Congress even beyond its present condition. The Fiftieth Congress will come in with two-thirds of the Democrats new men, and those who have studied its composition carefully since the election agree that the personnel is weak. A Democratic member who was talking on the subject recently, acknowledged that everything in the last House went to the bad, as far as the party was concerned, for want of a leader, and he added that the next House would be a mere plaything in the hands of the Republicans on account of the new recruits on the other side who are utterly without experience or reputation. It requires an apprenticeship of two years for a man to learn the parliamentary rules and working methods of Congress, and in the matter of leadership the Republicans stood in bold contrast to the Democrats in the House which has just closed its existence.

Miscellaneous News.

A Large Fire.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., March 13.—A large furniture factory in South Williamsport, formerly the property of the Luppert & Kline furniture company and operated by George Luppert, burned early this morning. Loss about $90,000. Insurance $21,000.

Newspaper Men Sued for Libel.

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—Mr. A. H Hoeckley, city editor of the Press, yesterday swore out warrants of arrest against Frank McLaughlin, publisher, and A. K. Messrs. McLaughlin and McClure gave bail for a hearing before Magistrate Cobb on Monday next.

Mangled by Dynamite.

Two Hungarians Killed and Several Injured by a Terrific Explosion.

MAUCH CHUNK, Pa., March 10.—A terrible accident occurred near Highland yesterday afternoon to nine Hungarians who were employed as laborers in the construction of the new Lehigh Valley railroad line between Highland and Sandy Run. The men were sitting near a fire eating dinner. Near by stood a box of dynamite and caps used for blasting. One of the Hungarians was seated on the box and after dinner struck a match to light his pipe. A spark dropped into the box and a terrific explosion followed. The man on the box was thrown thirty feet in the air, instantly killed, and mangled in a shocking manner. All his comrades were seriously injured. One died last night and another is not expected to recover. The clothing of the injured men were torn into shreads from their bodies, and pieces were afterwards found on the limbs of a tree ninety feet from the explosion. The injured men were sent to St. Luke's hospital.

Mary Anderson is Dead.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., March 13.—Mary Catherine Anderson, the young girl who was shot about five weeks ago, and whose case has excited universal attention on account of her remarkable vitality, died yesterday morning at 7.30 o'clock. The dying girl made no additional statement, and was unconscious up to the last. She had been unconscious sixty hours, and had not taken any nourishment since Wednesday. When the news was conveyed to Barclay Peak, the alleged murderer, he convinced considerable emotion and worry, but made no statement. He paces his cell constantly, and refuses to be cheered.

Mrs. Logan's Grief.

Her Friends Seriously Alarmed About the State of Her Health.

WASHINGTON, March 11. — The friends of MRS. Logan are in great distress concerning her health. After her husband's funeral she seemed to yield to the reaction from the high tension of body and mind which the General's affairs and illness had brought about into a condition of mental bewilderment and unrest. She passed days bemoaning the untimely death of the General and upbraiding herself for purely imaginary oversights in his care and treatment.

It was supposed that a few weeks would lesson the piognancy of her distress. Her visit to Chicago was hastened in order to give her a change of scene, which might turn her thoughts away from preving thought of her bereavement. The physicians admit that if she cannot arouse herself from the nervous prostration and general despondency which has taken possession of her naturally sanguine temperament very serious consequences may be anticipated. It is hoped, upon her return here, that the kindness of friends and other expedients to divert her mind may be successful in turning her attention to affairs around her.

THE BRIDGE GAVE WAY.

An Awful Railroad Accident Near Boston.

BOSTON, March 14.—A horrible railroad accident occurred on the Boston and Providence railroad this morning, by which twenty-seven persons were killed and seventy injured. It is the White River junction horror over again with all its sickening details. It was the 7 o'clock train from Dedham with its freight of workingmen, business men and shop girls hurrying toward this city. The train was made up at Dedham, consisting of nine passenger coaches and a baggage car. At Roslindale many more passengers got on board, and the train started up towards the city. Just the other side of the Forrest Hills station is the Buzzey bridge, which runs obliquely with the track on either side. The track is built high up an embankment, and meadows, covered with snow and ice, surround it on either side. The engine and three cars passed safely over the bridge, but when the next car touched the abatment there was a tremor felt and in an instant the further end gave away, and the third car breaking through went down, dragging all the remaining cars with it. The first car was turned completely over, and the one immediately following it broke through it and smashed it into a million pieces. Then came the other cars, tumbling one after another into the street, a distance of fifty feet at least. Those in the forward car who went down never lived to know what had happened They were mangled and squeezed up in horrible shapes. The other cars were terribly mixed up with sleepers, rails, heaters, &c. The distance from one abutment to the other is some 150 feet or more, and every particle of the bridge was carried away. In a very few minutes after the alarm had been given the fire department was on the scene, but fortunately no fire had broken out. As a matter of fact the stoves were pitched about in all directions, and how fire was averted it is impossible to conjecture. The cars turned completely over.

The last cars that went through remained fastened together and with the rails remained in an inclined position the latter looking like a ladder, and so wedged together that one could walk from the street below to the top of the stone wall that served as an abutment to the bridge along the sides and roofs of the cars. When the accident took place those who were in the suspended cars and who had the strength to do so crawled through the windows and amid the din of the crash found their way on hands and knees to the street below or to the top of the high stone wall above. In the two cars on the ground those who were wedged in between seats were taken out, together with those who were already dead, were laid on the temporary cots. Those who were able to speak told their names but many could not articulate a syllable.

It has been impossible so far to obtain a complete list of the killed and wounded. An efficient corps of physicians have been at work attending to the injured, who are more numerous than was at first reported, it now being estimated that nearly seventy persons received severe wounds. Of these it is said a number will probably die. A curious feature of the disaster is that the entire bridge went down with the wreck. Not a scrap of iron remained attached to the abutments, and but for the chasm and the awful wreck beneath there was nothing to indicate that a bridge had once spanned the abyss.

SOLD AT A SACRIFICE!

The Holidays are past, but a lot of holiday goods remain on our hands and we will sell these gods at a

SACRIFICE.

What we wish to say to our customers is this: That we are going to sell cheaper than ever before.

WHY?

First—Because this is a dull season in general. But we are going to make it lively by selling goods way down and selling much.

Second—Because we have a big supply of winter goods on hand, that must be sold in order to make room for a spring stock.

Third—Because we can afford better to sell winter goods cheap than carry them over the saason.

Fourth—Because we have the "Swing" and are bound to keep it.

REMEMBER!

We have anything from a needle to a hogshead of molasses—a good Sewing Machine or a house and lot.

—Working people are often too ill to labor, but they havn't time to take medicine and lay off. Simmons Liver Regulator can be taken without any loss of time, and the system will be built up and invigorated by it. It has no equal as a preparatory medicine, and can be safely used when a doctor cannot be called in. In all common diseases it will, unassisted by any other medicine, effect a speedy cure.

The body needs to be thoroughly renovated, the blood purified and vitalized, the germs of disease destroyed. Scrofula, Salt Rheum, and all other blood disorders are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the most popular and successful spring medicine.

—Two days were consumed in settling and auditing the financial affairs of Millheim borough this year. The auditors were sitting from Monday morning until Tuesday evening before the work could be completed. There must be something radically wrong somewhere, as the like was never experienced before. We are unable to get the financial statement in type in time for this week's issue.

—I HAD KIDNEY DISORDER and say for the good of others that Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cured me. Rev. S. C. Chandler, Lebanon Springs, N. Y. I had Stone in the Bladder and Gravel in the Kidneys. —We had a short but pleasant call on Monday from E. S. Shafer and Charley Grimm, of Madisonburg The former started for Haddam, Washington Co., Kansas, on Tuesday morning. He wishes to return thanks through the columns of this paper for the large attendance of his sale last week and for the liberal patronage of the public. He says the crowd at the sale was larger than any he saw this season, and they got away with bushel baskets full of provisions.

—The band's new instruments arrived on Tuesday morning and were forthwith tested. They prove entirely satisfactory. They are elegantly finished and trimmed and make a very rich appearance, while the tone is sweet and pure. They have written for Prof. J. H. Feehrer, of Selinsgrove, to give them a week's instruction.

—B. O. Deininger, Esq., has embarked in the publication of a new and well-arranged tax receipt book, which he had copyrighted and which is especially adapted to the new tax law. One hundred sample copies of these books were printed in the JOURNAL office last week which will shortly be sent out for examination. These books will no doubt secure a good market and promise the author an extensive business after they are fairly introduced. The book is an improvement upon his former publication, which furnished a separate receipt for each tax paid, while the new receipt book is arranged to last twenty years, one page answering as a receipt for all taxes paid in one year.

—MARK TWAIN says of Prof. Loisette's system of memory training, now taught at 237 Fifth Ave., New York: "Prof. Loisette did not create a memory for me—no, nothing of the kind. And yet he did for me what amounted to the same thing; for he proved to me that I already had a memory, a thing which I was not aware of till then. I had before been able, like most people, to store up and lose things in the dark cellar of my memory; but he showed me how to light up the cellar. It is the difference, to change the figure, between having money where you can't collect it and having it in your pocket. The information cost me but little, yet I value it at a prodigious figure.

THE NEW ORDINANCE.—Six columns of the first page of this week's JOURNAL are taken up with the new Borough Ordinances. We advise our town readers to give them a careful perusal as they are infinitely superior to the old boro' laws. The council committee, appointed for the revision of the former ordinance, assisted by their clerk, have worked hard and in cessantly to make the job as near perfect as it is in the power of human mind to do, and employed the services of one of Bellefonte's best attorneys to pass judgement upon and correct and improve the ordinance where it was necessary. Several new sections have been added, in order to cover some points of local government which had been entirely omitted in the old set of ordinances, and to those who study the document with care it will be evident that the framers of the new law inserted some wise and timely provisions. We call special attention to sections 2, 10, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 44, 45, 46, 47, 50, and 51. A comparison of the old with the new boro' laws will at once convince an impartial observer that it was indeed necessary to make changes and additions, and without attempt at flattery we say that the work was well done and at comparatively little expense.

NINETEENTH ANNUAL SESSION OF THE CENTRAL PA M.E CONFERENCE.—The M. E. conference at Bellefonte which is just about closing has been a very successful and profitable convention of the clergy of that denomination. The sessions began on last Thursday in the M. E. church with Rev. Bishop H. W. Warren in the chair. Rev. D. S. Monroe, D. D., was elected secretary. At the second day's session three presiding elders made their reports. Collections for missions were reported in advance of last year, while the whole number of conversions is seven thousand. Miss Angie F. Newman, of Nebraska, addressed the conference on Saturday morning and delivered a lecture before a great audience in the afternoon on "Mormonism and its Enormities." Her remarks made a profound impression upon her hearers. On Sunday all the churches of Bellefonte were filled to overflowing, the various pulpits having been supplied by conference members. Bishop Warren ordained a number of elders and deacons, and the missionary anniversary was held in the evening. The greater part of Monday's session was taken up with semi-centennial addresses. The report of the church extension showed that the income for the past year from collections and the loan fund amounted to $275,000, an increase of over $11,000. In the evening the preachers' aid and educational anniversaries were held. Tuesday's session was devoted to making the appointments for the several districts. The list of preachers for the Altoona district is given at the end of this article. Dickinson seminary was reported as growing in prosperity and the statistics committee's report shows the following as the present status of the conference: Full members, 41,900; probations, 6,310; churches, 485; value $1,862,768; parsonages, 133; value $292,696; number of scholars in Sunday schools, 53,996.

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years ought to know salt from sugar; read what he says:

TOLEDO, O., JAN. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience, have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours truly,
L. L. GORSUCH, M. D.,
Office, 215 Summit St.

We will give $100 for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally.

J. H. Frank sold all his horses to Flanagan, the wide-awake horse drover.

Henry Keen was to Bellefonte on Monday on special business.

Geo. S. Smith, from Illinois, a brother to D. G. Smith, was visiting in our town.

Mrs. John Kimport and Mrs. W. F. Smith, of this place, were attending conference at Bellefonte over Sunday.

COBURN.

Monday was township settling day. The auditors met in a room above the post-office.

A brakeman on the freight train by the name of Underwood was caught between some lumber and the end of a car and badly squeezed, at the station here one day last week.

A boom has been put in the creek above the dam and logs are now being floated down the creek to the new saw mill.

Coburn has increased considerable in population this spring by new families moving in.

Landlord Kleckner has given up the notion of leaving Coburn and will remain here another year.

The Reformed congregation had preaching Sunday afternoon and the Lutherans Sunday evening, when five new members were received into the church.

Quite a number of Millheim folks were noticed going to Bellefonte last week and this week to attend conference.

Mrs. W. H. Kreamer of this place is also attending conference in Bellefonte.

We understand there was a little fracas in the room where the auditors settled on settling day.

We noticed an article in the Centre Co. Times on our schools which was about the thing and which was true and cannot be denied.

J. Q. Musser, of Aaronsburg, has become one of our Coburn grain dealers, he having loaded two cars of wheat this week.

Shippers along the railroad are anxious to know what effect the inter-state commerce bill which goes into effect April 5th will have on rates. Shippers who have been shipping under special rates have been notified that all special rates will be withdrawn April 4th and new rates issued in compliance with the bill. What the result will be is hard to say but our opinion is, it will make cheaper rates from interor points to the eastern markets, so that shippers from here will be able to compete in eastern markets with shippers from the far west who have been able to ship to the East as cheap as those who are within a day's travel of the seaboard cities. VALE.

SPRING MILLS.

Geo. Jamison, son of J. J. Jamison, of this place, arrived here on Monday. He has been in the far west for several years and has had good success in his western home.

The funeral of Mrs. Jacob Jamison which took place in Georges Valley on last Sunday was one of the largest that has been at that church for years. She was a good neighbor and a faithful church member.

The horse sale in this place on last Saturday was well attended and the stock was sold at full figures.

Several parties who had indulged too much on last Saturday tried to raise a disturbance at the sale of horses. They however did not succeed, but on the other hand they disgraced themselves by their conduct.

Geo. Smith, Esq., of Rock Grove, Ill., is visiting his father Jos. Smith at present. He has been in the west for a number of years and has by his industry accumulated some property. We rather suspect that he intends to take a life long partner with him when he returns to his western home.

—Says neighbor Smith: "My little girl was pale and sickly, rapidly losing flesh, appetite variable, and sleep much disturbed. Her condition was becoming alarming. Was advised by a friend to try McDonald's Celebrated Worm Powders. Administered three and she expelled the enormous number of 132 worms." Neighbor Smith now thinks Mc'Donald's Worm Powders are the greatest vermifuges in existence.

Miss Annie Gettig was visiting old friends in this place over Sunday.

C. Beck moved on Tuesday to Lock Haven where he will engage in some lucrative business.

Mr. Dale, from Lemont, a representative Granger, made a very interesting address in this place on Friday evening. He succeeded in enlisting a few persons to the Grangers' cause.

Samuel Rine moved from Sugar Valley to this valley and occupies part of the house in which Wes. Snyder lives, for whom he will work this summer.

Adam Grenninger, who resided at Wolfe's store, has moved over to spruce, into the house of John A. Minich.

Thos. Walker was out buying Holstein calves and on his way through Woodward engaged a hired man for next summer's work.

James Reed was very low beginning of the week, but is recovering again, glad to state.

Benj. Reighart, from Westport, Clinton Co., spent a few days in this section visiting friends and relatives.

Guiswite & Co. experience some difficulty with their new engine. They started to saw but could not keep up the steam.

Doctor Frank, while about returning home from this place, was thrown from his buggy by a runaway horse which belonged to A. Ocker. The horse, was driven by John Shafer, who came up behind the doctor in a truckwagon. When the doctor reached the little bridge near Em'l Harter's he turned to one side to leave the runaway pass, but the Ocker horse, which occasionally gets the fits, turned the same way and with its front feet jumped on the rear part of Dr. Frank's buggy. Both Mr. Shafer and the doctor were thrown to the ground by the collision, but fortunately neither was seriously injured.

AARONSBURG.

We were sorry to find that our communication last week did not get there in time for publication. The same was sent to Rebersburg. The P. M. between Aaronsburg and Coburn via Millheim is held responsible for the miscarriage. Adjust your glasses more closely hereafter, gentlemen.

The robbin, bluebird, pewit and the little brown wren have come to take up their summer quarters with us. Rather early we think.

James E. Lenker is the possessor of a bone mill, wherewith he makes a very fine quality of bone meal for his brood of about 200 young chicks, which are from 3 to 6 weeks old. Come and see them. They are lively fellows.

Turb Kreamer and his brother Bob captured four raccoons one day last week in the mountains north of town. Turb says he enjoys coon hunting.

District attorney J. C. Meyer, of Bellefonte was in town for a day last week, while C. M. Bower, of the same place, was here attending the German Ref. Missionary Convention, in session for a few days.

Rev. Deitzler (Luth,) was the recipient of a very fine studying gown. Miss Henrietta Kline and Miss Emma Bower were the ladies selected to deliver the present, although quite a number of the ladies of the congregation were contributors to the gift.

Ammon Stover, formerly in the employ of merchant W. H. Philips, has left that place and gone to Bellefonte to become counter hopper for the Joseph brothers.

Miss Kate Musser, daughter of merchant M. M. Musser, who has been attending music school at Warren, Ohio, for the last six months, came home last Friday. Katy says she came not to stay.

"Why, yes sir; it tipped the scales just at eleven pounds, and a little girl, you bet. I feel kind of old this morning." So says Wesley Adams, of North 2nd St. Geo. Stoyer, of the same street and Wilson Burd, a square further north, report similar additions to their families. All girls! This indicates that there will be no war for some time to come, at least.

Violinist, shooster, and what not Ed. Kister, has turned out sawyer on Israel Weaver's saw mill. Ed. is kind of a "jack of all trades and boss of none."

The new pulpit with the accompanying altar furniture in the Luth. church makes a very fine appearance. The Sunday school room has been turned into a regular picture gallery. The room has also been supplied with ½ dozen electric burner lamps. ANOTHER.

PENN HALL.

Mrs. Wm. Wolf bade her many friends in this neighborhood good-bye on Monday morning and started for her western home. Miss Lizzie Keen, who also departed for the West, accompanied her, and smiled her farewell to acquaintances here.

David Bartges, David Sowers, J. B. & A. C. Fisher attended Ab. Miller's stock sale at Pleasant Gap. The stock brought back consisted of one bushel of potatoes.

Geo. S. Smith, from Dakota, Ill., formerly of this place, is at home on a visit to his parents and—and—, well, George is a practical fellow and generally connects business with pleasure.

Several weeks ago Jno. Smith traded horses with Mr. Kline, the noted dry goods peddler, who was robbed of some of his goods near our town sometime ago. We hear that last week one night the horse was taken from Mr. Smith's stable and replaced by his own horse Mr. Smith is very well pleased over the recovery of his property, but we would advise the peddler not to try to sell him any goods in the future.

Sqiure Hering has hired Benj. Shafer to work for him this summer.

Miss Lizzie Bierly, from Madisonburg, has moved to Jos. Smith's where she will make her home this summer.

Quite a number from this place attended the horse sale at Spring Mills on Saturday. J. B. Fisher bought an excellent team of sorrels and also one bay horse. J. F. Heckman also purchased a horse. Another certain gentleman, who was present, did not buy any horses, but he nevertheless returned home with a heavy load, which he must have picked up at the sale,
DENVER DAN.

MADISONBURG.

Philip Shafer started for Kansas last Monday morning.

The schools closed on Wednesday.

Mr. Ed Miller, while cutting wood last Monday, accidentally cut his foot. The wound is not serious.

Rev. Basom is expected home from conference to-day (Thursday.) Every person feels glad to have the reverend gentleman sojourn with us another year.

Felix Lee left our town last week. He went to Tusseyville to work on his brother's farm this summer.

Philip Gramley met with a painful accident on last Friday morning. While getting feed from the mow to feed his stock, he stepped between two slabs and fell down into the cowstable on a board partition. He had no bones broken but was very badly bruised.

Stanley, the only son of Benj. Limbert, west of town, was severely bitten by a dog the other evening.

Messrs. J. J. Ocker, Geo. Reber, Em'l. Harter and Wm. Neese are in Union county after horses.

H. R. Fiedler was determined to have his own horse shoe. I don't suppose the other gentleman enjoyed it so very much.

J. J. Ocker sold the horse that played havoc with Shafer's wagon and Dr. Frank's buggy.

Wm. Keller moved into the house with his mother on last Thursday.

Miss Ida Shafer and Clyde returned home from a two week's visit to Bellefonte and Lock Haven. *

Saved His Life.

Mr. D. L. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., says he was, for many years, badly afflicted with Phthisic, also Diabetes; the pains were almost unendurable and would sometimes almost throw him into convulsions. He tried Electric Bitters and got relief from first bottle and after taking six bottles, was entirely cured, and had gained in flesh eighteen pounds. Says he positively believes he would have died, had it not been for the relief afforded by Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by J. Eisenhuth.

A Woman's Experience With a Saw Mill.

TUCKERTOWN, FLA., November 17.

—Your letter of a late date requesting me to give my experience as a lumber manufacturer is at hand. I will state at the start that I am not in the business through choice, but having loaned money to parties with which to purchase a saw mill, I was compelled by their failure to make even the first payment to take the machinery from them. I then put my son-in-law, Ernest Wever, who promised great things, in charge. I told him I knew nothing of saw milling but I knew that the saw dust was too fine and the scratches on the boards too close together. I left him run the mill, but in a short time I found he could do no better than other men and I took him out of there so quick it made his head swim. I moved the mill a distance of 20 miles, fording the Hillsborough river, and placed it near my own house, at an actual expense of $9; and in a few days I had every thing in good order. I have my own teams and carts and take timber from my own lands.

Although accustomed to manage my own affairs, commencing by the time I was grown, I found difficulties enough in making lumber, and I have often said that a saw mill and satan belong in the same family, and some people say that since I became the owner of one they are sure of it; but while they talk I am at work. This is the trouble with half the country saw mills: There is to much talking and not enough work. Why, Mr. Editor, the most of men talk over a log long enough to saw it into inch boards. Then when they get started they discover that the fireman has not steam enough, then they must all sit down and talk again. By the time steam is up and one or two boards sawed, a belt must be repaired, which might just as well have been attended to before working hours in the morning or at noon. Then one man sews the belt while all engage in talk again When the belt is ready the sawyer gets it into his mind that the machinery needs ciling; then he hunts up the oil can, for he never has a place for anything, and goes around squirting oil into every hole but the right one, while the other hands go on with their talking. The next day they are out of logs and the mill hands do nothing except to allow "their time to go on." The day following some of the men are reported sick and more time is lost. At the end of the month there is little lumber and no money and they all wonder why saw milling does not pay.

I knew well enough that machinery is made to run, and when running it should be at work, and all I had to do was to keep the saw cutting for 10 hours a day and six days in the week. In order to do this the mill must be kept in good order, not by repairing broken parts but by keeping it from getting broken. And I soon saw that the parts of machinery out of sight were neglected the most. I would suppose any man would know that it is the inside of things that needs attention—the inside of the boiler, the inside of the cylinder, the inside of the pump or inspirator is of far more importance than the outside. Nothing makes me more angry than to see a man rubbing up the outside of his boiler when I know the mud is six inches deep inside, baking, burning and blistering the iron; yet I have seen but few saw mills except my own. But I saw how that was managed before I took possession of it, and I am told that others are managed no better.

Many a man in the saw mill business would do well if he could get skilled labor, but this state is cursed with a tribe of saw mill tramps who claim to know everything and when tried can do nothing. They are always on foot and out of money, yet if we are to believe them they have been the superintendents of the largest mills in America. Every one of them has been Gov. Drew's principal sawyer for at least 10 years, receiving not less than $6 a day. They all know more of machinery than the men who make it, and are ready, not to commence sawing, but to commence cutting, changing, splicing and rebuilding with a promise that if I will give them $3.50 per day and board they will double the capacity of my mill and be ready for work in about three weeks. I have never been deceived by one of them. but they leave their mark wherever employed. One half of them ought to be hung and the other half sent to the penitentiary. One came to me a few days ago who was an exception, for, notwithstanding he was "the best sawyer in Florida," he was willing to work for $10 a month and board, or $12 if he boarded "his self" —hungry looking wretch! I wouldn't have boarded him even a day for $2, and I knew he couldn't board himself at any such price. Said I, "Do you see that road out there?" He very meekly said he did. "Then," said I, "you go out there, and when you get to it you take either end you like; the one that will put you out of my sight the quickest will suit me best." He went. If he had not I would have put the dogs after him in three minutes.

I employ none but the best hands—not paying too much or too little, for one fault is about as bad as the other.

I can't say just what my lumber costs me, but I know that when sold I have taken in more money than I have paid out. I am 53 years old, or about that, was born in Florida, and was raised at a time when book-keeping was not thought of.

I now have my second husband, and I am the mother of nine children, seven of whom are now living. Several of the elder are doing business for themselves, yet they always come to 'mother' for advice, and when they don't take it they wish they had. I have always managed my own business, and I expect to while I live. I awake in the morning and plan the day's work while the men are asleep, and at the breakfast table I give every one his orders, including my husband, who never objects to my doing the thinking for the family.

My first advice to men who contemplate going into the saw mill business is—don't do it, for not one in 20 of you has the ability to succeed. If, however, you are determined to try it, be careful that you get the best machinery, strong and heavy enough to stand the bad treatment of awkward hands. Buy the most durable belts no matter what they cost, for half the failures in our backwoods mills are caused by constant breaking of belts. And when a complete outfit is secured, locate where you can get timber and sell lumber. Keep your machines in good order, taking special care of all parts out of sight. Pay your hands in cash, and not in promises, for they work for the money, and not for any love they have for you or your business. When you can't pay, shut down, stack your lumber and discharge all hands. Your mill will neither eat, drink nor wear anything while standing still. But when you do run, work everything to its full capacity. HARRIET SMITH.
